

WILDSHOT — TONIGHT'S TEST BRIEF

Everything that landed Aug 3 → Aug 4 and wants your hands · SERIAL 27 · fifteen bosses · CI green

The big three tonight: 1 the dungeon RE-WALK · 2 foraging · 3 the fifteen bosses — tide_stalker especially

1 · THE DUNGEON RE-WALK — your walk closes the fix

Your 'half of it doesn't work to walk in' was diagnosed: the dungeon was invisible, not small — a data-dialect bug erased the floor and wall tiles while their collision stayed real, and the fixed rift camera framed 4% of the arena. Rebuilt with a follow-camera and real path rendering, and there's now a permanent gate step that walks the whole path on real movement before any build passes.

- [] Console dungeon → walk the FULL path, entrance to end boss. Everything visible? Everything walkable?
- [] Mobs along the way die and bank gold without ending the dive; the end boss finishes it.
- [] The line drain in there is 0.1/s — say if the clock feels too gentle / right / too harsh.

2 · FORAGING — new system today (built hands-free while you were at work)

Shimmer-marked forage nodes now spawn out in the world (15 live at a time, world-wide, out of ~1.9k candidate spots). Walk up, press F, a gather bar runs, and a loot bag of materials drops into a materials wallet — visible as plain-named tiles under your bag, same idea as the fish. The old stand-still rule is gone entirely.

- [] Find a shimmer (or console forage tp jumps you to one) → F → gather → check the tiles in your inventory.
- [] Moving or getting hit mid-bar should cancel the gather cleanly.
- [] Do the node counts around the world feel right — too rare, too common?

3 · THE FIFTEEN BOSSES — eight rebuilt to your word + seven brand new

All fights now derive at 30–45 s (your 20–60 max ruling), cooldowns tightened. Your 'boss life' verdict split the roster: ANCHORS hold the room and fill it with choreography; FLANKERS strafe and reposition on speed ladders that never outrun you. Nothing chases — except the one sanctioned experiment:

tide_stalker (comet, g3) — the ONE true pursuer. It advances at 2.4/2.8/3.2 (always under your 3.6), throwing wake rings off the advance, and it's been corner-audited so walls can't pin you unfairly. This is the experiment your word asked for — its verdict decides if pursuit stays in the game. (The second pursuer candidate, shadow_hound, failed the fairness floor honestly seven times and shipped nowhere — one-chaser-max is now law; a rematch is your call.)

- [] rift list shows every id; rift <id> jumps straight into that fight.
- [] Per fight: does it feel intense-but-fair, ~30–45 s? Any statue-standing left? Deaths explainable?
- [] tide_stalker: does being pursued feel exciting or unfair? Corners OK?

id	biome	grade	family
twin_helix	nebula	1	flanker	rebuilt
ring_nest	nebula	1	anchor	rebuilt
sine_shoal	nebula	2	flanker	rebuilt gap_carousel	nebula	1	anchor	NEW sickle_weaver	nebula	1	flanker	NEW
boomerang_veil	void	2	flanker	rebuilt
decel_wall	void	3	anchor	rebuilt

zone_constellation	void	3	anchor	rebuilt dart_skirmisher	void	2	flanker	NEW decel_orchard	void	3	anchor	NEW
cross_burst	comet	1	flanker	rebuilt
pulse_lattice	comet	4	anchor	rebuilt halo_lasher	comet	3	flanker	NEW
tide_stalker	comet	3	PURSUER	NEW
pulse_cross	comet	4	anchor (4-phase)	NEW

Rifts still cast mostly fish (catch 70/80 weight) — a boss sighting stays an event; the console jumps skip the odds.

4 · QUICK LOOKS — yesterday's fixes, a glance each

- [] Nameplates: role labels (Banker / Merchant / Tackle Keeper / Quest Giver...) sit over the working NPCs only — the crowd stays clean. The name file ships EMPTY: drop proper names in whenever and they replace the roles.
- [] Quest markers (the empty-map fix): gold BANG = quest available · green RING = ready to turn in · amber DIAMOND = tracked objective — on the world and BOTH map scales; giver icons now float overhead, never under the sprite. (Kill/collect quests still have no map cell — your map-hints word is on the list.)
- [] The starhook gear loop end-to-end if you haven't: catch fish → the Tackle Keeper at the harbor capital sells the 12-rod catalog priced in fish → wear rod/chest/helm → the C-menu rifter panel swaps gear from anywhere.

5 · THE CONSOLE — built for exactly this

rift list | rift <boss_id> | rift catch [nebula|void|comet] [rare] | rift dungeon dungeon (same jump as rift dungeon)
level <1-30|max> | gold <n> | gear | tackle | fish <n>
forage <n> | forage tp (grant materials / jump to a live shimmer)
tp list | tp <name> | tp cell <x> <y>
god | slowmo <1-10> | verdict <dodgeability|feel> rested-human <text>

Use it all freely — dev commands mark the session so replay discipline survives on its own. If you want a verdict on the record right from the game, the verdict command writes it.

6 · ONE-LINERS OWED — whenever, no rush

panel2 chrome · tracker side · capital giver body · free-four shop-only · family-pattern vs per-rod · ×1.25 firing feel · kill/collect map hints · the fish designs (your own lane) · weekly GIF — fresh material everywhere now: a boss fight, the dungeon, the constellation.
